

Skotos Entertainment: RPGnet & Xenagia Media Kit

RPGnet is the oldest independent roleplaying site on the Internet. Active since 1996, it is a top 30,000 Alexa-ranked site and the largest roleplaying site on the Internet other than industry leader, Wizards of the Coast.

These ads are displayed above the fold in a prominent position at the top of each page. Flash and animated GIFs are allowed as rich media, though audio ads, pop-ups, pop-unders, and other intrusive advertising types are not supported.

The Skotos sites are prime locations for advertisers looking for readers interested in entertainment properties. The core RPGnet demographic is people who enjoy tabletop roleplaying, but other successful RPGnet ad campaigns have been for board and card games (Atlas Games), computer games (The Bard's Tale, World of Warcraft), computer software (Hero Labs, ProFantasy Software), television programming (Animal Planet), comic books (Heroic Publishing, Visionary Comics), and book publishing (Random House). The core Xenagia demographic is people interested in genre books, genre TV shows, and genre movies.

For more information or to create an insertion order, please contact Vice President of Advertising and Business Development, Shannon Appelcline, at shannona@skotos.net or 510-849-1003. Though most ads are run across both sites, advertisers can request exclusive runs on RPGnet or, in limited quantities, on Xenagia.
